Sean's Contributions in Life:

Sean's spirit was one of kindness and generosity, which was reflected in everything he did.

Helping others was at the core of who he was. It was this calling that led him to pursue a career as a first responder. Sean was a volunteer Firefighter with Hastings Fire Department in Minnesota. When he moved to Punta Gorda, FL during the 2020 pandemic to be closer to his family, he began attending Paramedic school and working as an EMT so he could return to Firefighting in Florida; it was his dream, and he was on his way to achieving it. Everything Sean did was to achieve his dream of being a full-time Firefighter. He was killed by a drunk driver while returning home from his paramedic class.
