Michael's Contributions in Life:

Mike started as a Fairfax County Police in patrol and then moved to the motorcycle unit. During his time as a motorcycle officer, he performed CPR for the first time. After being recognized for his actions, Mike was asked to be part of the first ever paramedic program offered to Fairfax County Police Department and start up their Helicopter Transport Unit, only 1 of 6. After Mike retired from Fairfax County in 2001, he volunteered at Sterling Volunteer Rescue Squad and then was hired on at Loudoun County Fire and Rescue. He always joked about being the oldest person who went through fire school. Mike was a Captain, Safety Officer, mentor, and friend.
