Gabe was born in Kailua, Oahu. He became a Flight Paramedic after he required a med-evac flight years ago. He perished at work, en route from Maui to Waimea to pick up a patient. He died doing what he loved, helping those in his community. Gabe's mother stated "Gabriel loved what he did, and he was well aware of the risks." Gabriel was a father of three boys. A friend who grew up with him noted he was: "a good friend. He was always there when you needed him. Always there to make you laugh."
