Mark's Contributions in Life:

Mark was a loving husband, father, son, brother, and man of God. When he was not serving his community he was devoted to his family. He loved to take care of people and did that often by cooking meals for them. He was asked to make his famous pound cakes for special events. Everyone loved his cooking, except for his kids of course! In his free time Mark ensured he had the best bermuda grass on the block and salt water fishing. He often talked about the day he was “double fisting” red fish in the OBX. Mark is deeply loved, missed tremendously, and always remembered by his family and friends.
