Curtis's Contributions in Life:

Curtis grew up in EMS, even before he could even drive, he worked for his uncle with the Hudson Fire Department. When he was old enough to take his EMT, he did, continuing his education and becoming a paramedic. He worked more than his fair share of shifts, covering holidays for co-workers with small children, birthday parties, or anything he could do to help others. He was a big man with a big heart. He had a debilitating heart attack in July of 2020 and never fully recovered. He was found eternally resting in peace on Father's Day.
