EMT

New Providence, NJ

End of Service: 08/27/2025

Age: 91

Circumstances: Illness

Henry's Contributions in Life:

Henry was a retired chemical engineer who discovered a deep passion for emergency medicine later in life. In 1991, he joined the Madison Volunteer Ambulance Corps, where he earned his EMT certification and quickly became a dedicated and reliable presence in the field. Over more than 20 years of volunteer service, he rose to the rank of Captain, earning the respect of his peers through leadership, calm under pressure, and unwavering commitment to helping others. He later continued his work in healthcare as an emergency room technician at Morristown Memorial Medical Center, where he brought the same steadiness and compassion to patient care.
